

Supporting the Industry

The American Feed Industry Association's (AFIA) Kenny Berg Research and Education Fund financially support the funding of research, education and promotions for the further development of the liquid feed industry. Research data generated from this program significantly promotes the growth of the industry. The Liquid Feed Research and Education Fund have contributed over $120,000 towards research projects since its inception.

All Presidents' Club, Executive Club, and Pacesetter Club contributions go directly to this fund and contributors are recognized in AFIA's official publication and at the annual Liquid Feed Symposium.
